BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Julius Eckhardt Raht

1826, June 26, Born in Dillenburg, Duchy of Nassau, Germany. Son of the President of the Appellate Division of the Court of Justice at Dillenburg.

1844-1845 Attended Bonn University,

1846-1847 University of Berlin - Studied Chemistry, Mineralogy, etc.

1850, Sept. 26, Came to the U.S. with his brother Carl by way of the ship "Bavaria." His brothers August, William, and Edward, came later. The exodus was because of the political persecution of their father in Germany.

1850-1854 During these years he worked at mines in Missouri, Iowa, Wisconsin, Virginia, and North Carolina.

1853, Aug. 20, Applied for citizenship before circuit court of the District of Columbia.

1854 In the Spring of this year he arrived in Ducktown and in a few months became a mine captain. He was called Captain Raht for the rest of his life.

1854, Aug., Married Mathilde Dombois at Freindiez, Duchy of Nassau, and returned to Ducktown. His wife's family were French Protestants who had fled to Germany to escape religious persecution.

1856, May 22, Granted citizenship by the circuit court of Polk County.

1856 Purchased a 480-acre farm from L.L. Threewitt known as Turtletown farm. This was done primarily with proceeds from his store.

1858, Jan. 1, Appointed by Samuel Congdon, Manager and large stockholder, to take over the Management of the Ocoee Turnpike and Plank Road Company and in the same month became Superintendent of the Union Consolidated Mining Company, succeeding Congdon who returned to New York. He was given residence and store house of Congdon, rent free.

1858, Mar. 1, Employed by Alexander Hamilton., President of the Davis Copper Company, to take charge of that company's properties.

1859 Purchased a Negro slave named Edom, together with a wagon and team and gave him his freedom in a few months.

1858-1862 Store business became extremely lucrative and Raht invested in land, town lots, bonds, interest, mortgage loans, and pounds sterling. Increased the number of his commissaries. Eight years after coming to Ducktown without funds he estimated his fortune at $100,000. Salaries amounted to $600 per month in addition to store profits.

1863, Mar. 4, Furnished the Confederacy a substitute by the name of D. Wallis.

1864, January, Sold his horses and mules to the Federals and left Ducktown with his household goods for Cincinnati.

1865, March, Returned to Germany for an eye operation. He was back in the United States by May.

1865, July, Moved back to Ducktown.

1875-1879 Lawsuit begun by Union Consolidated Mining Company against J.E. Raht. Decision in his favor two months after his death.

1879, Aug, 15, Captain Raht died.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

The Robert Edward Barclay Papers consisting of approximately 3350 items and 57 volumes contains clippings, correspondence, diaries, financial records, genealogical data, pamphlets, programs, Polk County records dealing with politics, roads, schools, etc.; railroad and copper mining records, reports, letterbooks, and historical sketches for the dates 1865-1961. The material can be divided into 2 parts: (1) the early material dealing with Julius Eckhardt Raht, his copper mining and railroad activities in East Tennessee, especially in Polk County, collected by Robert E. Barclay and used in writing his book, Ducktown Back in Raht's Time; and (2) material dealing with the history and activities of the Good Government League of Polk County of which Mr. Barclay was Chairman for a number of years in the 1940s and 1950s.

The earliest items in the collection are some accounts of the Tennessee Mining Company for the years 1856-1858; personal financial reports of J. E. Raht, 1856-1879; some correspondence of Alphonse Chable, 1867-1874, in regard to the establishment of the Dutch Colony in Polk County; correspondence dealing with the construction of the Cleveland and Ducktown Railroad 1866-1873; and eight letterbooks of J. E. Raht while he was Superintendent of the Polk County Copper Company, the Burra Burra Copper Company, and the Union Consolidated Mining Company for the years 1864-1879. Raht was a German engineer who came to Ducktown in 1854, and was soon one of the most important persons in the copper mining business in the area. The letterbooks are primarily concerned with the copper and railroad business and contain numerous letters to Samuel Congdon, the General agent in New York. Other correspondents include the names of James A. Alexander, F. P. Axley, James Bailey, W. H. Ballew, William A. Bartlett, John Baxter, J. B. Brient, William G. Brownlow, G. M. Burdett, John Caldwell, Thos. H. Callaway, George S. Cameron, David Cleage, A. S. Colyar, Tom Crutchfield, J. H. Deaderick, Warren Delano, Oswald Dietz, John M. Dow, Edward Dunn, E. G. Duvall, John G. Gaines, Dr. Augustin Gattinger, Jesse H. Gaut, Lyman W. Gilbert, W. A. Gunn, G. A. Gunther, William Hickok, R. M. Hooke, C. E. James, A. S. Jarnigan, Henry Jory, D. M. Key, M. C. King, W. B. Lenoir, James R. Love, R. E. A. Love, J. J. Lowry, E. MacPherson, D. C. McMillin, C. Mansfield, W. Morrow, Edward Mueller, James Nankivell, E. P. Noyes, James Parks, Bailie Peyton, August Raht, Carl Raht, Edward Raht, E. F. Sevier, James G. Stuart, George O. Sweet, Charles B. Tatham, John Thomas, John Tonkin, S. Watson, Gen. J. T. Wilder, and Hon. J. M. Worth.

In addition to the correspondence and letterbooks of J. E. Raht, there are records of the Cleveland and Ducktown Railroad containing accounts, acts of incorporation, charter and amendments, estimates of construction costs, freight rates, rights of way, minutes of stockholders meetings, subscriptions, etc.; a volume containing the minutes of the Board of Directors and the Charter of the Chattanooga, Cleveland, and Murphy Railroad for the years 1888-1891; several pamphlets on (1) East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railway System, (2) Knoxville and Charleston Railroad, (3) the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, (4) the Western North Carolina Railroad, (5) Railroad Construction and Supplies, and (6) narrow gauge railroads.

The briefs, correspondence, indentures, leases, opinions, and petitions dealing with the school lands in Polk County, 1861-1916, are in the collection. The sale and lease of these lands containing deposits of copper were the subject of a good deal of controversy immediately following the Civil War and finally ended in a lawsuit carried all the way from the lower courts through the State Supreme Court to the Supreme Court of the United States.

The second part of the papers is more recent and deals with the formation, meeting, and activities of the Good Government League of Polk County of which Mr. Barclay was chairman for a number of years beginning in 1946. It is composed of correspondence, newspaper clippings, election returns, meeting notes, constitution and by-laws, and broadsides of the League.

Also included among the more recent papers are World War I records of R. E. Barclay containing correspondence, diary material, orders, citations, pictures, etc.

The collection contains some genealogical and biographical data concerning the Raht and Barclay families and Robert E. Barclay's diaries, a volume for each year, beginning in 1925 and ending in 1945.

Later additions made to the Barclay Collection consist of biographical information, clippings, correspondence, diaries (for the period 1946-1967), magazines (Volumes 20 - 26 of Topics, publication of Cities Services Company), newspapers, notes (for publication by R. E. Barclay, The Railroad Comes to Ducktown and The Copper Basin, 1890-1963,) programs, reports, and sketches concerning Polk County, Tennessee; Tennessee Copper Company; Cleveland and Ducktown Railroad, Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railroad, and Southern Railroad; Ducktown Law Court; Copperhill Kiwanis Club; the Melungeons; and the Polk County Historical Society.
