WHEREAS, born and raised in Rockwood, Mrs. Brummett rendered sterling service at the Breezy Wind sewing plant after graduating from high school; and

WHEREAS, after discovering that her daughter, Cindy, suffered from a developmental disability, Mrs. Brummett completely devoted herself to her child's growth and development; and

WHEREAS, she enrolled her daughter into the Michael Dunn Center, a groundbreaking program developed to serve and cater to individuals with unique challenges; launched the Caring Parents Group and Campfire Girls; raised funds for the center's playground equipment; volunteered in the center's Speech Department; became active in organizations such as Eagles and the Arc; and advocated for the Michael Dunn Center and programs like it before this body; and

WHEREAS, an active and devout member of the Rockwood First Presbyterian Church since her youth, this generous and vivacious lady has led the church's Love Kitchen ministry for more than a decade, offering a hot meal, warm shelter, and true friendship to anyone in need; and

WHEREAS, Mrs. Brummett's remarkable success as a public servant and civic leader is directly attributable to her reliance on the time-honored values of hard work and common sense and her uncommon ability to work well with people from all walks of life; and

WHEREAS, Wilma Brummett is an extremely giving person who often reaches out with compassion to people whom life has treated unkindly, and she epitomizes the ideal of the consummate professional, dedicated public servant, and reliable friend and neighbor; and

WHEREAS, her accomplishments aside, Mrs. Brummett is most grateful for the love and support she shares with her husband, James Brummett, with whom she has treasured forty-three years of marital bliss; and their beloved daughter, Cindy; and

WHEREAS, Mrs. Brummett is wholly committed to the noble precepts of public service that have earned Tennessee recognition as the "Volunteer State," and she should be specially recognized; now, therefore,
