

THE
ILLUSTRATED POLYGLOT
FAMILY BIBLE

CONTAINING THE

OLD AND NEW TESTAMENTS,

TOGETHER WITH THE

APOCRYPHA, CONCORDANCE, AND PSALMS IN METRE

THE TEXT CONFORMABLE TO THE STANDARD OF THE AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY:

TRANSLATED OUT OF THE ORIGINAL TONGUES,

And with the former Translations diligently Compared and Revised,

ALSO,

A HISTORY OF THE TRANSLATION OF THE BIBLE, AND RELIGIOUS DENOMINATIONS; OVER ONE HUNDRED SCRIPTURE ILLUSTRATIONS, VALUABLE TREATISES, CHRONOLOGICAL AND OTHER USEFUL TABLES, DESIGNED TO PROMOTE AND FACILITATE THE STUDY OF THE BIBLE.

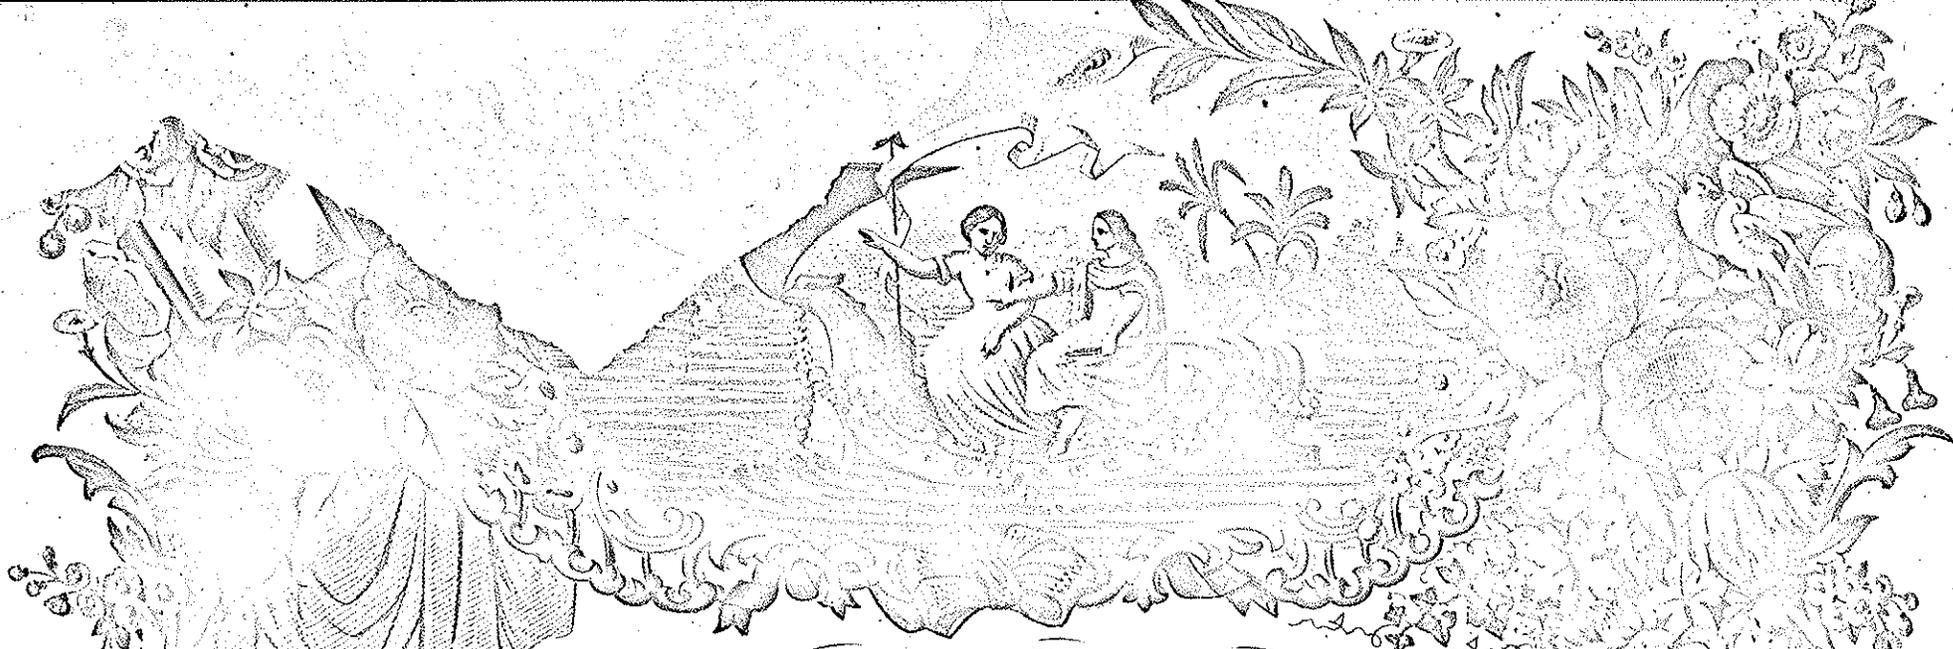

COMPILED WITH GREAT CARE FROM THE BEST SOURCES.

TOGETHER WITH

TABLES OF SCRIPTURAL COINS AND MONEY TERMS, WITH THEIR VALUE EXPRESSED IN THE MONEY OF THE UNITED STATES. BY JAMES ROSS SNOWDEN.

Ms. Div. ac. no. 67-85

PUBLISHED BY
C. P. BRADWAY,
DANVILLE, PA.

ARTHUR GERRARD'S PATENT

The Best of

Holy Matrimony

— WAS CELEBRATED BETWEEN —

Isidore L. Darcis of Nashville Tenn
and Emilee W. Diggins of Nashville Tenn on the 14th of Sept. 1879, at 29 South High Street Nashville
by Rev. Mr. [unclear] Chaplain to Bishop [unclear]

Witness [unclear] Witness Mary A. [unclear]

Marriages

Lewis Judson & Harriet Davis was married in Durham Connecticut.

James & Eleanor Diggins was married in Bombay
East Indies Jan'y 3rd 1813.

Frederick Lewis & Eunice Water Davis was married in Nashville Tennessee September 14th 1870 on Wednesday at 10^o m. no 29 South High Street by Rev^d Dr Lee Chaplain to Rt. Rev^d Bishop C. P. Switard of Tennessee.

James Buist & Harriet Bishop Richardson
were married in Nashville Tennessee
Wednesday June 15th 1898 by Rev. Edward Ogilby at The Church of the Advent.

Births

James Diggins, born in the City of York
England Jan'y 8th 1783

Annor (Shepherd) Diggins, wife of James Diggins, born in the Cape of Good Hope Africa, March 17th 1799

Lewis Judson Davies, born in Waterstown
Stechfield County Connecticut July 10th 1802

Harriet (Bishop) Davies, wife of Lewis
Judson Davies, born in Durham Middlesex
County Connecticut, November 11th 1799

Frederick Lewis Davies, eldest son of Lewis Judson & Harriet Bishop Davies, born in Columbus Muscogee County Georgia, June 16th
1830

Emmie Waters Diggins, wife of F. L. Davies, and youngest daughter of James & Eleanor Diggins, born
April 19th 1844, Nashville Davidson County
Tennessee.

Births

Mollie Bishop Davies, born in the city of Nashville August 21st 1863. Monday 6 P.M.

Frederick Lewis Davies Jr. born in the city of Nashville October 6th 1875. Sunday 1 P.M.

Harriet Bishop Davies, born in the city of Nashville
April 8th 1872. Wednesday 7 P.M.

Erinice Diggins Davies, born in the city of Nashville
March 24th 1876. Friday 4th P.M.

Louisa Neale Duvic born in the city of Nashville
Sept 17th 1877. Monday about 7 A.M.

Dying

James Diggins, died in Nashville August 21st 1863.
Cathie School Daves died in Nashville May 6th 1868.

Lewis Judson Daves died in Nashville Feb 2nd 1873.

Emerson Walter Daves died in Nashville Oct 14th 1894

at his residence, 25 P. M., Sunday.

was a devoted wife, a devoted mother and a true Christian woman, beloved by all who knew her.

Age, 33 years 5 months & 25 days.

Eleanor Shepherd Diggins died July 12th 1880

Harriet Bishop Daves died July 30 1891

W. H. Daves died Sept 6th 1891

F. L. Daves died in Evansville Ind.

Dec. 8th at 1.30 P. M. Our beloved Father.

James Brist Richardson, Died Nov 5th 1939

Pathe Daves Richardson, Died Nov 25th 1946.

A devoted and lovable couple.

Frederick Louis Daves Jr. Died Feb 17th 1951

A wonderful brother.

IN MEMORIAM.

Beautiful Tribute to a Noble Woman.

[FROM THE COLUMBUS (GA.) DAILY TIMES.]

We publish the following tribute to the memory of Mrs. N. N. Curtis, which we clip from the Hartford (Conn.) Post. The sentiments contained in the notice find a welcome place in the hearts of the many friends of the deceased in Columbus, where she had spent the best portion of her life:

IN MEMORIAM.—Mrs. Sarah, wife of N. N. Curtis, and daughter of our townsman, B. B. Beecher, died at the house of her parents on Saturday, 12th inst., at 3:30 P. M. She was about forty-one years of age. On the preceding Wednesday she gave birth to a little boy, but subsequently sickened, and finally, on Saturday afternoon, passed quietly away from earth, in the presence of weeping relatives and mourning friends. In this busy, every day world of ours the departure of one from among so many to a future world is seldom noticed by the multitude. It is only among an immediate circle of friends that one is mourned. Few die without being missed by some one. But here many paused, startled at the sudden appearance of the angel—Death; many bowed their heads in silent though sincere grief at the loss of a kind and loving friend; but it was in the hearts of her family that the diamond-pointed dart of death sank deepest. Sad was her death to her little children and aged parents; sadder to him who but a few days before had left his wife in perfect health to make a short journey on business, and, summoned by a telegram, only returned to find her dying.

Genial and social as she was among her friends, it was in her home she shone resplendent; she was truly the light thereof. Always cheerfully studying the comfort of her family, ever showing to her children the confidence of a sister and the tenderness of a mother, we may truly say she made a model home.

She had come from her distant home in Columbus, Ga., to once more visit her native town and aged parents, intending in the fall to return again to her home and friends; but ere the time came, God stayed her work and called her home to Him and the little children who crossed before. So true to life was she in death that we who looked upon her coffin for burial, and her crowns and crosses, could only think of her as one asleep. And indeed she was asleep—asleep in Jesus from whom she has ere now received the everlasting crown, the "Well done, good and faithful servant." There was no trace of pain in that placid face, only a smile wreathed the death-touched lips. "That God will bind where he hath broken, and help the members of the little household to pick up the broken threads of their home life and weave for themselves spiritual garments like unto those she wove, with which to adorn themselves when they shall be called to appear before their king in glory a reunited family," is our earnest wish.

IN MEMORIAM.

Death of an Estimable Lady.

[FROM THE COLUMBUS, (GA.) DAILY ENQUIRER.]

We regret to learn that Mrs. Sarah, the wife of Mr. N. N. Curtis, died in Durham, Connecticut, on Saturday evening, the 12th instant. Mrs. Curtis' maiden name was Beecher. She is a sister of our townsman, Mr. Henry B. Beecher. She was about thirty-eight years of age.

She gave birth to a little boy on Wednesday, and subsequently sickened and Saturday, breathed her last in the home of her parents. Her husband was with her, having been recalled from Boston. Her last end was of peace and quiet. The child is doing well.

Only a few weeks ago Mr. Curtis, with his wife and family, left here to visit their relatives in Connecticut. Mrs. Curtis was in excellent health and bade adieu to her many friends, expecting to soon return and mingle with them, but Providence has willed that we see her no more in this life. She was a woman beloved by all who knew her, and a gloom is spread over our city by the intelligence of her death. The poor have lost a friend, one whose hands were always extended in charity and kind deeds. Mrs. Curtis leaves a bereaved husband and four children to mourn her loss. May a kind Providence, "who tempers the wind to the shorn lamb," enable the stricken husband and mourning children to bear up under the loss of the Christian wife and mother.

Mrs. Curtis for years has been a consistent and faithful member of the Episcopal church. Her's was the Christianity of Christ, not a Sunday profession of respect. The poor and the lowly can understand the exemplification.

Her remains may, later, be brought to Columbus.

National Society of Colonial Dames of America in Tennessee