THE BOSTON BURGLAR

I was born in Boston, a city you all know well,
Brought up by honest parents. The truth to you I'll tell;
Brought up by honest parents, and raised most tenderly,
Till I became a sporting man at the age of twenty-three.

My character was taken and I was sent to jail.

My friends found that it was in vain to get me out on bail;

The jury found me guilty. The clerk wrote it down.

The judge has passed my sentence, I was sent to Charlestown.

To see my aged father standing at the bar.

Likewise my aged mother, a tearing of her hair.

She tearing of her old gray lockswile the tears came rolling down,

Saying, "Son, dear son, what have you done that you are sent to Charlestown?"

I was, put on board an eastern train, one cold December day,

And every station that we passed I'd hear the people say,

"There goes that Boston burglar in strong chains he'll be bound,

For some crime or another he's off to Charlestown.

There's a girl in Boston a girl that I love well,

And if ever I get my liberty bad com- her I'll dwell,

And if ever I ge my liberty bad com- pany I'll shun,

Likewise nigt walking, gambling and also drinking rum.

All you who have your liberty pray keep it if you can,

And don't go 'round the streets at night to break the laws of man,

For if you do you'll surely rue it and find yourself like me,

Who am serving out my twenty-one years in the the penitentiary.
