Before CHRIST cir. 161.
v 1 Sam. 17, 51.
x 1 Sam. 17, 54.

sender of the citizens, both in body and mind, and who continued his love towards his countrymen all his life, commanded <sup>u</sup> to strike off Nicanor's head, and his hand with his shoulder, <sup>z</sup> and bring them to Jerusalem.

31 So when he was there, and had called them of his nation together, and set the priests before the altar, he sent for them that were of <sup>y</sup> ch. 14, 41. <sup>v</sup> the tower,

32 And shewed them vile Nicanor's head, and the hand of that blasphemer, <sup>z</sup> which with proud brags he had stretched out against the holy temple of the Almighty.

33 And when he <sup>h</sup> put out the tongue of that ungodly Nicanor, <sup>h</sup> he commanded that they should give it by pieces <sup>u</sup> to the fowls, and hang up the reward of his madness before the temple.

34 So every man <sup>a</sup> praised toward the heaven the glorious Lord, saying, Blessed be he that hath kept his own place undefiled.

35 He hanged also Nicanor's head upon the tower, an evident and manifest sign unto all of the help of the Lord.

36 And they <sup>b</sup> ordained all with a common decree, in no case to let that day pass without solemnity, but to celebrate the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which in the Syrian tongue is called <sup>a</sup> Adar, the day before Mardocheus' day.

37 Thus went it with Nicanor: and from that time forth the Hebrews had the city in their power. And here will I make an end.

38 And if I have done well, and as is fitting the story, it is that which I desired: but if slenderly and meanly, it is that which I could attain unto.

39 For as it is hurtful to drink wine or water alone; and as wine mingled with water is pleasant, and delighteth the taste: even so speech <sup>d</sup> finely framed delighteth the ears of them that read the story. And here shall be an end.
