INTRODUCTION

The Papers of W. B. Stokes, General in the United States Army and member of Congress, and the papers of James Tubb were preserved by Livingston Tubb and were presented to the Manuscript Section on November 1, 1925, by Mrs. H. L. Simpson of Franklin, Tennessee. Mrs. H.L. Simpson was the daughter of Mr. Livingston Tubb, son of James Tubb and a stepbrother of W. B. Stokes. A copy of a day book of James Tubb was obtained through the agency of Mr. Thomas G. Webb of Smithville, Tennessee.

The materials in this finding aid measure .42 linear feet, and there are approximately 300 items contained in this collection.

Single photocopies of unpublished writings in these papers may be made for purposes of scholarly research.

SCOPE AND CONTENT

The Stokes and Tubb Papers, 1811-1888, consisting of about 300 items, contain documents of James Tubb and correspondence and legal documents of General W. B. Stokes. General Stokes fought with the Federal Army during the Civil War. The bulk of the correspondence dates from the 1880s, although some of the more pertinent letters are from the 1870s, during the Reconstruction Era. General Stokes served in the United States Congress as Whig Representative (1859-1861) and then as a Republican from 1866 to 1871. In 1869, he was a candidate for Governor. If he had favored the enfranchisement of the ex-Confederates, he would have had their support and been overwhelmingly elected. As it was, DeWitt C. Senter favored it and became Governor. Stokes was defeated for reelection to Congress in 1870. He practiced law in DeKalb County until his death in 1897. There are a number of legal documents in the collection for this period. In 1881, his friends signed a petition to President Garfield requesting that General Stokes be appointed Post Office Inspector. This appointment was not made, due partly to the death of Garfield.

His correspondents included such persons as J. W. Head, A. J. Fletcher, S. M. Fite, James H. Blackburn, D. M. Key, H. P. Cleveland, Thomas A. Benton, J. T. Wilder, Thomas Waters, R. S. Kendrick, J. A. Fuson, John B. Robinson, A. J. Duncan, W. T. Hoskins, A. W. Wills, Horace Maynard, Roscoe Conkling, James S. Fowler, James Rainey, Isham G. Harris, Marcus J. Wright, John F. Miller, Z. B. Vance, William Woodcock, Henry Gibson, John A. Logan, Benton McMillin, John Lynch, and others who were members of the United States House of Representatives and Senate.

In addition to the papers of W. B. Stokes, there are approximately 30 documents of James Tubb including commissions, contracts, receipts, accounts, etc., for the years 1811-1864; genealogical data about the Tubb family; a muster roll of Captain James Tubb for the War of 1812; and a day book of James Tubb for the years 1851-1862. The Tubb family was related by marriage to the W. B. Stokes family.

Recent additions to the papers include a letter from E. W. Bass, Capt., Co. K, 5th Tennessee Cavalry, dated from Tullahoma on July 17, 1864 to James Tubbs (Tubb) commenting on the war; and a photograph of James Tubb, Jr. (1788-1867).
