INTRODUCTION

This collection centers around Bettie (Mizell) Donelson (1862-1939) and her work in preserving "The Hermitage," restoring the Hermitage Presbyterian Church (1889), collecting Jackson memorabilia, and acting as secretary and later Regent in the Ladies Hermitage Association. The Bettie M. Donelson Papers were given to the Tennessee Historical Society in 1940 by Mrs. Bettie Donelson Heins, granddaughter of the owner.

The materials in this finding aid measure 2.94 linear feet. There are no restrictions on the materials.

Single photocopies of unpublished writings in the Bettie Mizell Donelson Papers may be made for purposes of scholarly research.

SCOPE AND CONTENT

The Bettie Mizell Donelson Papers, containing approximately 530 items and 17 volumes, cover the years 1787-1938. The collection is composed of correspondence; legal papers (land grants, articles of agreement, powers of attorney, court cases, and indentures); newspaper clippings on "The Hermitage," Rachel and Andrew Jackson, the Ladies Hermitage Association, Tennessee Centennial Exposition (Woman's Board), Woman's Suffrage and the Woman's Christian Temperance Union; photographs of Rachel and Andrew Jackson, "The Hermitage," various members of the Ladies Hermitage Association, and Bettie M. Donelson; several volumes of scrapbooks (one on Andrew and Rachel Jackson, two on the assassination of William Alexander Donelson (1850-1900), six volumes on the Ladies Hermitage Association, and one volume on the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and Woman's Suffrage); plus other miscellaneous items.

The earliest letters in this collection date from 1818 and are family letters between members of the Donelson family. Such topics as family news, debts, and politics were discussed. Most of the other correspondents, dating from the late 1800s through the early 1900s, wrote to Bettie Mizell Donelson concerning such topics as the business of the Ladies Hermitage Association, the refurbishing of "The Hermitage" with the original furniture, concerts and other activities to raise money for carrying on the work of the Association and the work of the Woman's Board for the Tennessee Centennial.

The legal papers involve the Donelsons during the late 1700s through the early 1800s. These include land grants from North Carolina in the names of John and Stokely Donelson; court records of James G. Martin, Richard G. Waterhouse, et al and Stokely Donelson, et al; and indentures in the names of various individuals, mostly from Rhea County, Tennessee, including a marriage contract (1799) between Elizabeth (Glasgow) Martin and Stokely Donelson executed in Knox County, Tennessee. There was also a court judgment filed in 1901 between Sam Pride and William Giles Baker, et al in these legal papers.

The scrapbooks, especially those of the Ladies Hermitage Association, make up the rest of the collection. The Association scrapbooks give the early history of the Ladies Hermitage Association; the programs for the different activities undertaken, such as the Jackson Day celebrations, visits by prominent people; as well as the yearly activities, including election of officers for two-year terms, beautification programs at "The Hermitage," the buying of Jackson memorabilia, and outings for the ladies. Most of this material is made up of newspaper clippings. (Often, Mrs. Donelson would write notations along the sides of the pages.) The scrapbook concerning Rachel and Andrew Jackson is also made up of newspaper clippings. In particular, these clippings criticize the article written on Rachel Jackson by Meade Minnigerode for the Saturday Evening Post. Two other scrapbooks concern the assassination of William Alexander Donelson (1850-1900), husband of Bettie M. Donelson, by William Giles Baker. One, written by Bettie M. Donelson, is entitled "Bettie M. Donelson. Memorandum. Bearing on Baker's two unsuccessful attempts to murder Mr. Donelson on March 23, 1900; also on the foul assassination on July 21, 1900.” The other one concerns the trial of Baker as it was reported in the newspapers. The last scrapbook is made up of newspaper clippings on Woman’s Suffrage and the Woman’s Christian Temperance Union. Many of these clippings concern the national meeting of the W.C.T.U. held in Nashville, Tennessee, during November 1907.

Other items such as music sheets, photographs, architectural drawings, etc., can also be found in the collection.
