INTRODUCTION

The Rugby Papers, Addition I, is composed of numerous photographs as well as photocopies of articles, correspondence, and reports concerning the Rugby Colony. The donor of these materials is George Zepp of Nashville, Tennessee.

The material in this finding aid occupies .63 cubic feet of shelf space.

The Rugby Papers, Addition I is not restricted. Photocopies may be made for the purposes.

SCOPE AND CONTENT

The Rugby Papers, Addition I, containing approximately 173 items, spans the period 1879-1934. This addition contains photocopies of clippings, correspondence, notices, and reports concerning the Rugby Colony of Rugby, Tennessee. Included in this material are copies of letters from Thomas Hughes, founder of the Rugby Colony, to Robert Walton. There are also copies of correspondence and petitions which were written in an effort to obtain a U. S. Consul position for Robert Walton. Another item of interest is a bulletin dated 1880 from the Board of Aid to Land Ownership in which the estate on the Cumberland Plateau is described.

The photographs are mostly of unidentified subjects. The categories include buildings, houses, landscapes and people.

For additional information on Rugby see also the Rugby Papers, 1872-1942, accession numbers 145, 1661, 1740, 67-089, 68-081, 68-178, microfilm accession numbers 39, 239, and 253; and the Rugby Papers, Addition 2, 1830-1956, bulk dates 1880-1919, accession number 94-201, microfilm accession number 1673.
