INTRODUCTION

The subject of this finding aid is the McGill-Thatcher Family Papers. The family lived mostly in East Tennessee, in the towns of Retro, Bakewell, Soddy, and Chattanooga. The papers were donated on April 19, 1999, by Caroline Rothe, a grandchild of one of the women featured prominently in the papers. Included in the papers are genealogies of the Hunter, McGill, Patterson, and Vandergriff families; land deeds dating to 1818; correspondence; numerous photographs, tin types, calling cards, cabinet pictures, drawings, and Daguerreotypes; greeting cards; a will; a military promotion and discharge papers from World War I; a pass to town from the Civil War; receipts; insurance papers; speeches; composition books; and obituaries.

The collection originally contained .75 cubic feet of material, but after processing and discarding of extraneous materials the collection is marginally smaller. There are no restrictions on the use of the collection, and copies of items may be made for individual or scholarly use.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

The McGill-Thatcher Family Papers span the years 1818-1979, and document the lives of William Napoleon Bonaparte McGill and his family, particularly his two daughters, Ida Irene McGill and Pearl McGill Thatcher.

The collection is arranged by type of document and then alphabetically, with the exception of the photos which are arranged by type and size. When subjects in the photographs are known, they are arranged alphabetically by subject. Otherwise they are listed as unknown. Correspondence within the collection is organized by decade. The correspondence begins about 1864 and continues until the 1960s. The letters are basically greetings between family members. A few of the letters were written from a convalescent camp during the Civil War; others were written during World War I.

The collection is broad in the types of documents it contains. Included are genealogies of families related to the McGill family through marriage, or families they are descended from. There are family trees for the Hunters, the McGills, and the Pattersons. Types of materials included in the collection are: a roll book from 1890; a fifth grade composition book; correspondence from the Civil War and World War I; land deeds, 1818-1950; the will of William N. B. McGill; insurance papers from the early nineteenth hundreds; photographs, Daguerreotypes, tintypes, and cabinet cards; birth records for Pearl Thatcher and Ida Irene McGill; obituaries of William N. B. McGill, his wife, his daughters, and Seldon Thatcher; graduation and alumni speeches; stories; promotion and discharge papers; appointment papers for William N. B. McGill in his duties as special deputy or justice of the peace; funeral registers; and newspapers clippings. The newspaper clippings have been photocopied onto acid-free paper and the originals have been discarded.

The collection provides information and insight through its letters and photographs into the lives of some Tennessee families across different eras and through major events.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH

The McGill name, meaning the son of a stranger or lowlander, is a Scottish name that originated in Galloway, Scotland. During the reign of King James I of England (1566-1625) the Scottish people were oppressed for being Presbyterian and refusing to submit to the Church of England. This persecution forced many to seek shelter in Ireland, but the situation was not any better there, because the Scots and the Irish were divided along cultural and religious lines. Many Scots again migrated, this time to America. They first resided in Pennsylvania, where William Penn operated a colony free from religious persecution. After a time, they crossed the Alleghenies and entered North Carolina and Virginia. Some time after they migrated to Tennessee and Kentucky. The branch of the McGill family covered in by this collection helped settle northern Hamilton County, Tennessee.

The majority of the information in this finding aid deals with William Napoleon Bonaparte McGill and his descendents. William N. B. McGill was born on August 23, 1863, and died on April 16, 1937. In his lifetime he was a landowner, a mason, chairman of his local Republican committee, and served as justice of the peace. He married Margaret Almyra Vandergriff who was born on April 11, 1888, and died January 6, 1951. This marriage produced five children: Sarah Elizabeth McGill, born on February 14, 1889; Ida Irene McGill born on February 2, 1891; Urcie Pearl McGill born on September 30, 1893; William Gilbert McGill born on May 25, 1896; and George Willard McGill born on July 29, 1905.

The documents and photographs preserved in this collection relate mostly to Ida Irene McGill and Urcie Pearl McGill-Thatcher. Ida Irene McGill was a teacher, trained in Johnson City, Tennessee, who taught in Hamilton County. Urcie Pearl McGill-Thatcher was also a teacher in Hamilton County. On November 11, 1921 Urcie Pearl married Seldon Thatcher, a World War I veteran, and from their marriage came Laura Margaret Thatcher born on October 25, 1922, and William Seldon Thatcher born on September 11, 1924. Laura Margaret Thatcher married John C. Rothe on September 11, 1948. Born to them were Charles Thatcher Rothe (November 16, 1951) and Caroline Rothe (December 15, 1953). Adopted children of William Seldon Thatcher are Bobby Thatcher, born in 1960, and Cindy Thatcher, born in 1962. Caroline Rothe Shaw, granddaughter of Urcie Pearl McGill-Thatcher, donated the materials in this collection.
