SCOPE AND CONTENT

The Tennessee Historical Society Office Files, 1790-1988, were a gift from Jim Hoobler, Executive Director of the Tennessee Historical Society from 1978-1988. The collection consists of 14.0 cubic feet and is arranged by series. Each series is arranged in alphabetical and chronological orders. There are no restrictions on this collection. The collection consists of account and finances, acquisitions and collections, administrative records, correspondence, history, meeting minutes and proceedings, membership, publications, and trips and events.

The Accounts and Financial series contain invoices from the years 1940-1987, as well as the society's federal tax income returns from 1979-1985, with the exception of 1983. Also included in this series are bank statements, 1976-1987, and an account book of bank statements for 1945. There are also some award and endowment funds included.

The Acquisition and Collections series contains numerous acquisition records, 1849-1983, detailing historical items that the society received. More specifically there are two volumes of original acquisition records. The first volume is dated February 4, 1851, and lists manuscripts, relics, and miscellaneous items that the society received. In addition, this volume contains meeting minutes beginning December 23, 1835-July 22, 1838. The second volume is dated March 1, 1880. It lists each item received by the society as well as a description of the item and who donated it. There are 564 items described in this volume. Also included in this series is the collection policy for the society and non-archival acquisitions, 1903-1985. The non-archival acquisitions describe donations such as paintings, locks of hair, dresses, shell casings, etc.

The Administrative Records series contains the society's by-laws and several projects they were working on such as the Hopewell Baptist Church Restoration Project and the Tennessee Art Commission Catalogue Grant. Also included are several legislative bills and resolutions. One legislative bill is to separate the Library and Archives from the Department of Education and to create a Commission of History, Library, Archives, and Museums. The bill includes the duties of the Commission, how it is to be organized, and its appropriations and support.

The Correspondence series includes correspondence dealing with the society's business and daily functions. All of the correspondence are listed in alphabetical order by last name and include dates. A large portion of the correspondence is from James A. Hoobler, past Executive Director of the society.

The History series includes notes on the history of the Tennessee Historical Society and a Circular of the Tennessee Society for the Diffusion of Knowledge, neither of which is dated.

The Meeting Minutes and Proceedings series contains minutes of the Tennessee Historical Society, 1849-1981. Original volumes and typed copies are included. Also included in this series are the Tennessee Antiquarian Society meeting minutes, 1820-1837, which was the beginning of the Tennessee Historical Society.

The Membership series includes eight account books containing information on membership dues, July 1967-1987, and two account books containing Tennessee Historical Quarterly subscriptions, 1942-1945. Also included in this series are membership applications, 1946-1960, and membership renewals, 1986-1988, as well as several genealogical records from members of the society.

The Publication series primarily consists of Tennessee Historical Quarterly article submissions, 1963-1978, as well as newspaper clippings and various programs.

The Trips and Events series consists of planning information for the society's events and trips: travel pamphlets, brochures, menus, reservations, budgets, and more. The society traveled to Europe, New England, and other parts of the South as well as planned and participated in such events as its Annual Meeting Dinners, the Civil War Symposium, Southern Museum Conference, and the Tennessee Conference on Local History.
