INTRODUCTION

The Records contained in Record Group 266, Department of Conservation, span the period 1919-1987, although the bulk of the collection concentrates on the period 1940-1980. The record group consists of correspondence, photographs, scrapbooks, and subject files reflecting the many activities of the Department of Conservation.

The records contained in this record group came to the Tennessee State Library and Archives through the State Records Center. The final disposition of these records was determined by the Records Disposition Authorization (RDA) process. In accordance with the RDA, all the material in Record Group 266 has been microfilmed and the originals were disposed of by state approved method.

Record Group 266 consists of approximately 25 cubic feet. Records removed and destroyed during processing were duplicate copies and routine office correspondence was sampled. Photographs were photocopied and originals were placed in the vault for permanent retention.

Record Group 266 is a continuation of the records relating to the Department of Conservation. Researchers should also consult Record Group 19, Department of Conservation, 1937-1959, and Record Group 82, Conservation Photographic Collection, 1930-1955.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

Record Group 266, Department of Conservation, spans the period 1919 through 1987, although the bulk of the collection is concentrated within the period 1940 through 1980. The collection consists of approximately 25 cubic feet of material. In accordance with the Records Disposition Authorization (RDA), the collection was microfilmed and the originals disposed of by state approved method.

The collection is composed of correspondence, photographs, scrapbooks, and subject files. The correspondence is general in nature, and includes the correspondence of several early commissioners. The correspondence, in keeping with original order, is filed alphabetically by sender or by topic, such as correspondence from the Division of Archaeology. There is almost no correspondence in the collection before 1949. Routine office correspondence, such as letters of request, have been sampled and the majority disposed of.

The bulk of the collection consists of subject files. The subject files correspond to the various activities of the department, as well as federal programs relating to environmental issues. The most important single element in the subject files are the files relating to the creation and growth of the Tennessee state park system. The subject files are arranged alphabetically, and may include correspondence, handwritten notes, pamphlets, photographs, or other materials. All state publications were removed and deposited in the holdings of the State Library. Photocopies of photographs were placed in the subject files, while the originals are retained in the Tennessee State Library and Archives vault.

Record Group 266 may be beneficial in tracing the history of the environmental movement in Tennessee. Especially important for the researcher will be the materials dealing with the Tennessee state parks.

THE DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

The Department of Conservation was organized in 1937. The creation of the department represented an effort to integrate the activities of the various state administrative agencies which beforehand had dealt with the major subject matter areas within the field of natural resources conservation. At that time, the Division of Forestry was transferred to the Department of Conservation from the Department of Agriculture, and the Division of Geology from the Department of Education.

The major programs of the Department were to:

- a) operate Tennessee's state parks and develop additional parks and recreational activities for the use and benefit of the general public;
- b) promote tourist visits to Tennessee through promotion and advertisement of its system of state parks and other recreational and amusement activities;
- c) survey and promote the development of the State's mineral resources and conduct geologic mapping;
- d) study the water resources of the State and administer a state water resources program;
- e) inspect all sleeping and eating establishments in Tennessee;
- f) educate Tennesseans concerning the State's resources; and
- g) administer federal strip mining and reclamation laws.

The Conservation Commissioner, advised and assisted by the Conservation Commission, established the policies under which the departmental work programs were oriented. His primary administrative duty was that of coordinating the work of various services and divisions. The divisions under the direct supervision of the Commissioner included the:

Division of Game and Fish
Administrative Units and Services
Budgets and Accounts
Educational Service
Division of State Parks and Recreation
Division of State Information
Division of Hotel and Restaurant Inspection
Division of Forestry
Division of Geology
